Robbinsdale Crime Prevention Association

About:

The Robbinsdale Crime Prevention Association (RCPA) is a non-profit 501(c)3 organization. The group is a volunteer, community-run organization. The RCPA was founded in 1987.

Mission:

The purpose of the RCPA is to educate Robbinsdale residents about crime, crime prevention and safety in our community. The RCPA provides a forum for citizens to communicate with police about their crime and safety concerns.

What we do:

The RCPA holds community meetings at the Robbinsdale Police and Fire Dept. Building at 7 pm on the meeting days listed. During the summer months, the RCPA is actively participating and making appearances at community events.
